Wabash County Tobacco Free Coalition works to improve the health of Hoosiers of Wabash County and to reduce the disease and economic burden that tobacco use places on residents of all ages. The Coalition is to prevent and reduce the use of all tobacco products in Wabash County and to protect citizens from exposure to tobacco smoke. The Coalition coordinates and distributes resources allocated from the Tobacco Use Prevention and Cessation Trust Fund Executive Board in order to:

- Change the cultural perception and social acceptability of tobacco use.
- Prevent initiation of tobacco use by Wabash County youth.
- Assist tobacco users in cessation.
- Assist in reduction and protection from secondhand smoke.
- Support the enforcement of tobacco laws concerning the sale of tobacco to youth and use of tobacco by youth.

SCHOLARSHIP PAGEANT SEEKING CONTESTANTS

Contestants are being sought for the 2008 Wabash County Festivals Scholarship Pageant. The pageant will be held on Friday, July 25, 2008, at 7:30 p.m. in the Ford Theater. The pageant affords young women between the ages of 17 and 21 the opportunity to compete for scholarship funds that may not be available to them through other venues. Candidates regularly speak of their appreciation for the leadership development this event provides them, as well as other growth opportunities.

Any Wabash County young woman ages 17 to 21 who plans to further her education or whom may already be attending college is eligible and strongly encouraged to enter this pageant. All applicants need to be enrolled in college for the 2008-2009 school year. The complete list of rules is attached to the application, which is available through the Chamber office, or at any of the four county high schools and Nowak's Hallmark. The pageant organizers hope to award approximately $5,000 in scholarships. Applications for the pageant are due by June 4.

Contestants will participate in a get acquainted tea, a fun activities night, a fund raising project, the pageant rehearsal and the scholarship pageant event. The Queen and her Court will represent Wabash County at various festivals, parades and several other events throughout the year. In November, the queen will compete in the Indiana State Festival Scholarship Pageant which will be held in Indianapolis. There, the Queen will have an opportunity to win additional scholarship money.

For more information about the Scholarship Pageant, please contact Bev Vanderpool at 260.563.4964. Anyone wishing to donate toward the Scholarship Fund may do so by sending a check to Chamber office as noted above. Please mark your check "Scholarship Pageant." This year's pageant Co-directors are Ms. Vanderpool and Beth Winer.

LANDMARK CAMP

Historic Landmarks Foundation of Indiana and the Dr. James Ford Historic Home offer a two-day camp for children ages 8-12 on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 29-30. Participants spend both days discovering the architecture and landmarks—history in 3D—of Wabash and Lagro. The camp runs from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day. Historic Landmarks Foundation's ArchiCamp program comes to Wabash for the first time. ArchiCamps encourage children to use their imaginations and powers of observation while teaching them about history, architecture and renovation. Cost of the camp is $35 per camper and includes refreshments, educational materials, and souvenirs. Participants should bring a sack lunch. Enrollment is limited to 20 children. Reservations must be made by July 15. Contact Cathy Wright at 260.563.4534 or northcentral@historiclandmarks.org or Tyler Handwork at 260-563-8686 or tylerhandwork@yahoo.com.

MAKING THE BUSINESS COMMUNITY MORE AWARE

Benefits of Being Smoke-Free

Why should you be smoke-free? Because you care. You care about your employees. You care about your customers. You care about the financial well-being of your business. Providing a smoke-free workplace makes sense. Tobacco use and secondhand smoke can have a devastating effect on your employees, your customers, and your business.

Why Your Business Should Be Smoke-Free Lower.

1. Lower your costs.

- The CDC puts a $3,383 price tag on each smoker: $1,760 in lost productivity and $1,623 in excess medical expenditures.⁹
- Businesses pay an average of $2,189 in workers' compensation costs for smokers, compared with $176 for non-smokers.¹⁰
- The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) estimates that smoke-free restaurants can expect to save about $190 per 1,000 square feet each year in reduced cleaning and maintenance costs.¹¹
- The National Fire Protection Association found that in 1998 smoking materials caused 8,700 fires in nonresidential structures, resulting in direct property damages of $60.5 million.¹²
- Fire insurance is commonly reduced 25-30 percent in smoke-free businesses.¹³
- The American Cancer Society reports that employees who smoke have an average insurance payment for health care of $1,145, while nonsmoking employees average $762.¹⁴

2. Increase productivity and morale.

- The American Productivity Audit, a national survey of over 29,000 workers, found that tobacco use was a leading cause of worker lost production time.¹⁵
- Smoking in the workplace causes inefficiency, errors, eye irritation and lower attentiveness.
- Employee morale suffers when nonsmoking employees are forced to be exposed to secondhand smoke.
- A smoke-free workplace is more attractive to employees, since nearly 75 out of 100 adults in Indiana do not smoke. 71.5 percent believe smoking should not be allowed at all in indoor work areas.⁷

3. Reduce absenteeism.

- Smokers, on average, miss 6.16 days of work per year due to sickness (including smoking-related acute and chronic conditions), compared to non-smokers, who miss 3.86 days of work per year.¹⁵

4. Protect your employees' health.

- Employees exposed to secondhand smoke on the job are 12-19 percent more likely to get lung cancer.¹⁶
- Exposure to secondhand smoke increases the risk of an acute coronary heart disease event by 25-35 percent.¹⁷

5. Protect yourself from possible liability.

- Reduce the risk of lawsuits being filed by employees who become ill from breathing secondhand smoke while at work.
- Eliminate disability claims based on secondhand smoke exposure.
- Prevent violations of the Americans with Disabilities Act that result from limiting access by people with respiratory problems who cannot patronize or work in your business due to tobacco smoke pollution.

Too many Hoosiers are losing years because they do not embrace healthy habits. And, health care costs in Indiana are among the highest in the country. Our rising cost of health insurance coverage,

What's the bottom line? Plain and simple - being smoke-free adds up. It's the right thing to do - for the health of your employees and customers AND the wealth of your business.
